
Illustrative layout only: pairwise values are simulated to match your medians/ranges; the real figure would use the run-level ρ already in the results.